

Wednesday Reading task:

Before I tell you what to do for this reading task, just know that I am SO jealous and would totally love to be doing this! I want you to re-create your comic strip from yesterday, but in real life action shots. If you have something to take photos with, I want you to recreate your comic strip pictures in real life pictures! If you don't have something you can take pictures on, you can still do the activity and just save the picture moments in your head! Get those acting faces on and use whatever you can find around the house as costumes and props! GET CREATIVE!
